February 2021

President's Message

What to do, what to do?
Looking ahead at WIFV's calendar of events for February,
there are so many possibilities!

I could kick off the month
by hearing from an independent filmmaker who wrote,
directed, and starred in his very own action adventure film. Very cool. And not only did he make his film, he got distribution, too!
And wait – that filmmaker is one of us! Our very own WIFV board member Giuseppe Lucarelli is going to be taking us behind the scenes of what it was REALLY like to make and distribute his film CHECKMATE.
Yeah, I should sign up for that. (Narrative
Director Roundtable: CHECKMATE, Feb
1 @ 6:30 pm)

What's going on on Tuesday...hmm...looks like I could start my day by attending a virtual coffee, hanging out with WIFV members to chat about what's going on with their creative pursuits. I always meet someone new at these coffees, and it's interesting and inspiring to hear how other people are juggling priorities and moving toward their goals. Plus, it'll give me a much-needed dose of socialization! Yep, I'll do that one, too. (Virtual Coffee, Feb. 2 @ 9:30 am).

I see there's a WIFV program later that same day, featuring a panel of independent filmmakers who didn't wait for permission from some big studio or streamer to make their films. These determined folks found a way to tell their stories, on shoestring budgets with skeleton crews. The creative right side of my brain is happy just thinking about that. Definitely gonna sign up. (DIY

Roundtable Roundup

Narrative Directors: Meet the Filmmaker CHECKMATE
Monday, February 1, 6:30 - 8:30 pm
RSVP here

Documentary: #Upstanders
Monday, February 8, 6:30 - 8:00 pm
RSVP here

Editors: Networking Coffee
Wednesday, February 10, 9:30 - 10:30 am
RSVP here

BIPOC: Happy Hour
Thursday, February 18, 4:00 - 5:00 pm

Filmmaker Panel – ScriptDC, Feb. 2 @ 6:30 pm)

At this point, I hear a voice. It's coming from inside my head.

“All this artistic creative stuff!” huffs the left side of my brain. “Fancy-schmancy. What about me?!”

Good news: on Wednesday, looks like there's a panel on business and tax issues affecting my filmmaking activities. Should I set up a corporate entity? Is what I'm doing a business or a hobby? What's the deal with 1099 contractors? And what about all those COVID tax relief provisions? Just the kind of thing the practical left side of my brain will enjoy. I'm in. (Weds One: Tax Issues for Media Professionals, Feb 3 @ 6:30 pm).

Three days, four events — and that's just the first week of the month!

WIFV members know that our organization offers the best bang for the membership buck in town. If you aren't looking at the WIFV calendar and picking and choosing among the great educational and networking events we offer each and every week, you are missing out on some fantastic opportunities.

Looking forward to seeing you at an upcoming WIFV event!

Respectfully,

Cathie Saadeh

COVID-19 Resources

WIFV has been collecting (and suggesting) relief resources for freelancers, artists, and small businesses across the region. Access them here.

Care for Creatives provides pay-what-you-can mental health support to the DC creative and entrepreneurial community. Individuals who reach out to the CCSC are matched with a clinical intern to support them through a solution-oriented therapy approach. All services are confidential and will be provided via tele-health. Email CCSCFoggyBottom@gwu.edu and the Care for Creatives team will follow up with more information.

Submit Your News & Photos - We Want to Celebrate!

Deadline for Members in the News is the 10th of the month. Send an article (100 words or so) and a photograph or link to director@wifv.org. You can see past issues here. Deadline for the monthly newsletter is the 20th of the month.

And we still welcome receiving photos of you at work - writing, filming, acting, being a stellar PA - membership@wifv.org is where you should email them. Provide project name and photo credit.

News You Can Use

Who Was She? Podcast Launched

WIFV Board Member Tara Jabbari has launched WHO WAS SHE? a podcast about women throughout Baha'i history. You can listen to the series trailer here. The first season focuses on Lidia Zamenhof, an Esperantist, and Baha'i who traveled the world to teach languages in an effort to bring unity to humankind. The first episode is titled She Who Hopes and is available for listening here. The podcast is also available on Apple, Amazon, and Spotify. You can also find more information on our social media: Instagram, Facebook, Pinterest. Please share, subscribe, rate and review and I know you will be captivated as much as I have by Lidia's work, character and experiences!

Tara Jabbari is a digital media consultant and producer and WIFV Board Member. She worked as a producer, writer, editor, and marketer for independent documentaries, shorts and online media. She has began her first biographical podcast to share the stories of women throughout history.

PAINTED CITY Broadcast and Streaming

PAINTED CITY, the award-winning documentary short by WIFV Member Caitlin Carroll and Brad Forder, had its broadcast premiere on Maryland Public Television! The film is now available to stream directly on the MPT website. WIFV is honored to serve as the fiscal sponsor for this film.

PAINTED CITY follows the journey of Dr. Perry Frank in her pursuit to save and preserve the memory of murals in Washington, DC. The film explores problems such as gentrification and new building development, which not only push locals out of the city, but destroy murals that provide input into the rich history of DC.

Phillips Sweeping the Awards!

Seventeen weeks after entering her first film festival, first-time filmmaker Robin Phillips (aka narrator Christina di Marlo) has racked up 117 top BEST awards from 57 festivals around the world - more than half are IMDb-qualifying. Learn more at Groundbreakerfilms.com.

Behind the Name SHAKESPEARE: Power, Lust, Scorn & Scandal has won multiple BEST Of the Fest in areas of Documentary, Experimental, Feature, Historical, Sound Design/ Director/ Editing/ Original Concept, etc. Watch the 3-minute trailer.

The film answers the question, "Who really wrote Shakespeare?" and last November Hollywood Weekly Magazine featured her film on the cover of their first international edition, aimed at the UK (see above). "Behind the Name SHAKESPEARE: Power, Lust, Scorn & Scandal is a sensational experiment...This new investigation into the works of William Shakespeare...is therefore a film of impressive breadth, capable of reconciling the virtues of cinema and those of theater and uniting them with the depth of its story. Hopefully Robin Phillips will delve further into this wonderful cinematic quest." Rome Prisma Awards review

Robin Phillips is a Member of the National Press Club, Founding Member of the National Speakers Association, DC Chapter, International Documentary Assn, and a WIFV Corporate Supporter.

Stowe Story Labs Spring Deadline - Feb 10

Our friends at Stowe Story Labs are approaching their regular deadline for all 2021 labs, retreat, fellowships, and partial scholarships on Feb. 10! This year there are twelve fellowships supporting artists through Stowe programming, and an array of wonderful programming specific for the growing alumni community of Stowe. Learn more here. You can apply now on Submittable or Coverfly. We hope you will take the time to apply. Best of luck in the review process!

Mediamakers Winter Party - So Cozy

So much fun networking with colleagues from WIFV,

The Actors' Center, Docs In Progress, TIVA, and other creatives. A trivia contest yielded prizes for Joe Dzikiewicz, Hannah Shows, Debbi Mack, Erica Ginsberg, Annette King, Talaya Grimes, and Judy Meschel. Prizes were donated by WIFV, Three Seas, Inc., and Melissa Houghton. We are grateful to those who contributed to the WIFV Seed Fund for Documentary Filmmakers and started off 2021 as patrons of independent mediamakers.

Tax Issues for Media Professionals - February 3

For tax purposes, are your media activities a hobby or a business? Should you set up a legal entity—and if so, what type? What are the tax consequences of working as a freelancer or as an employee?

Join WIFV for a practical presentation on business tax issues for media professionals, presented by three attorneys from the leading D.C. tax law firm of Ivins, Phillips & Barker. Our panel of experts will walk through the business tax issues that all creatives should know about, whether working as an independent contractor or an employee. The panel will cover tax fundamentals as well as some of the unique challenges of 2020 and beyond, such as COVID tax relief provisions. Will COVID relief affect your tax filings? How should unemployment payments be addressed on your tax return? We will leave plenty of time for Q&A.

Wednesday, February 3 at 6:30 pm RSVP here. Panelist bios on registration page!

$10 WIFV Members / $20 Public This is an online webinar.

You will receive the login link with your registration confirmation.

How to Package an Indie Film - February 9

The most traveled route into financing a feature film is to know where your audience will watch it, who is making your type of film, what cast would respond to it, and what parts of it will be attractive to directing and production talent. NO ONE is going to finance a film based on the script alone that has no distribution or first look deal in place (unless you're John August, Catherine Hardwick, Diablo Cody or Aaron Sorkin of course.) Most distributors nowadays want to see attachments in order to greenlight the use of their marketing departments. This means knowing where your budget range fits within the new streaming, theatrical and pay TV paradigms. Producing an indie is a arduous labor of love... the more prepared you can be BEFORE approaching investors the better. Presented by Steve Douglas-Craig (SONY Screen Gems) and moderated by Lauren Menkes, Esq.

Tuesday, February 9 at 6:30 pm RSVP here. Bios available on registration page.

$15 WIFV Members and Students/ $30 Public

Pre-Production and Finance for Indie Films

We are so excited you are thinking of making your own film! Where do you start? Join Joanne Butcher (Filmmaker Success), Julie Lynn (Mockingbird Pictures), and Claudia Myers (FORT BLISS, ABOVE THE SHADOWS), independent filmmakers who will share how they approach pre-production and financing. They will discuss both making it yourself and passing it forward to others. Bios on registration page.

Tuesday, February 16 at 6:30 pm RSVP here.

$15 WIFV Members and Students/ $30 Public

This is an online webinar. You will receive the login link with your registration confirmation.

Film Case Study: THE NEVER LIST

Join director/co-producer Michelle Mower and writer/co-producer Ariadne Shaffer as they discuss how they made THE NEVER LIST to be released in March (we promise).

Synopsis: After the sudden death of her best friend, a straight-A, obedient teen sets out to fulfill their secret list of outrageous acts they said they'd never do. Starring: Fivel Stewart, Keiko Agena, and Andrew Kai
